AMHERST, NY, June 26, 2007 - Synergy, in Rochester, N.Y., has teamed up with Ingram Micro Inc. (NYSE: IM), the world's largest technology distributor, and will operate Ingram Micro's Seismic Managed Help Desk and Managed NOC from the Synergy operations center located in Amherst, N.Y.

Available now, Synergy has entered into an agreement with Ingram Micro to fulfill Ingram Micro's new Seismic service and support offerings which will help solution providers and MSP (managed service provider) partners lower operating costs and increase service and support capabilities. Synergy will offer both the Managed Help Desk and Managed NOC service either separately or bundled together as part of a complete Ingram Micro Seismic managed services solution.

"We are pleased to be teaming up with Synergy as they are a premier provider of integrating services and products," said Jason Beal, director of sales, services division, Ingram Micro. "Having Synergy operate the Seismic Managed Help Desk and Managed NOC enhances Ingram Micro's managed services portfolio and will ultimately drive more value for channel partners and their customers."

Features of the Managed Help Desk and Managed NOC include:

Seismic Managed NOC -- Interoperable with most remote management and monitoring tools, the Seismic Virtual NOC offers partners a low-cost, hassle-free solution to outsourcing and managing routine network and desktop maintenance and monitoring. Based in the United States, the Seismic Managed NOC helps partners maximize their remote monitoring capabilities and allows their engineers to focus on high-end implementations and on-site client projects.

Seismic Managed Help Desk -- Designed to enhance customer service and satisfaction while driving down operating costs, the Seismic Managed Help Desk offers an affordable and reliable means for partners to deliver 24/7 remote support to clients. Like the Seismic Managed NOC, the Seismic Managed Help Desk can be privately labeled by the solution provider to ensure a consistent customer-service experience. Partners can purchase the Seismic Managed Help Desk on a point-based system or through unlimited annual calls per end-user.
